題目	What is "Modern "Japanese" "Literature": Exploring Japan's modernity through literary discourse
[授業の概要・目的]
This course will explore developments and trends in modern Japanese literature, society, and culture. We will read and analyse literary (and non-literary) discourse dealing with the encounters between Japan and the world from the beginning of the Meiji period to the present, as well as works illustrating the way modernization redefined human relations (family, friendship, love, etc) during the same period of time.
[到達目標]
At the end of this course, students will have sufficient information about the historical, social, and cultural background of the literary works read in class, and will be able to put them into perspective, questioning the dichotomies “ Japan-West ” and “ modern-traditional ” , while looking at “ literature ” as their locus of dialogue. They will have also learned about various literary theories and analytical methodologies, which will allow them to engage with the texts in a critical way, in order to produce meaningful discussions, presentations, and essays.
Study Focus: Knowledge, Belief and Religion; Visual, Media and Material Culture. Modules: Mobility& Research 1; Mobility&Research 2; Research 3.
[授業計画と内容]
The course will start with an introduction to the concept and language of literature and the changes they underwent throughout history, in the world but especially in modern Japan; it will also touch upon the main theoretical schools and movements, in order to provide a firm framework for further discussion and analysis. The primary readings, focusing on two topics, “ East-West encounters ” and “ Redefining relations ” , will include, without being limited to, the following works: Mori Ogai: ‘ The Dancing Girl ’ ; Higuchi Ichiyo: ‘ Growing Up ’ ; Nagai Kafu: American Stories; Akutagawa Ryunosuke: ‘ The Ball ’ ; Tanizaki Jun ’ ichiro: Naomi; Kawabata Yasunari: The Old Capital; Kyoko Yoshida: ‘ Kyoto Panorama Project ’ ; David Zopetti: Ichigensan, the Newcomer, etc. Classes will ideally be interactive, with student discussions and presentations taking up 1/4 to 1/3 of the time, but a more detailed plan for each class will be determined based on the number of, and the feedback from the participants.
[履修要件]
Intermediate/ advanced knowledge of Japanese is an advantage.
